

NOT SO SURE WAR CAN BE AVERTED — LONDON TIMES SAYS EVACUATION OF FOREIGNERS FROM HARBIN
CONSIDERED

London, Aug. 24.—A Peiping dispatch to the Daily Mail today said the diplomatic body there was considering ordering evacuation of all nationals from Harbin, Manchuria, railroad centre, in view of continued reports of a Russian advance against that city.

The London Times, summarizing events of the past week, editorially today seemed doubtful that peace would be maintained and thought the hostile tone taken by Tokio could be discounted by the fact it was to Japan's interest to see that war was avoided.

GREATER WEALTH

Two small boys were boasting about the wealth of their respective fathers.

"My father," said one, "has so much money that he doesn't know how to spend it."

"That's nothing," retorted the other, "my father has got so much that my mother doesn't know how to spend it."—Pearson's Weekly.

Relatives are people who object to the way the widow spends her insurance money.

"In Selling Position"

Alberta Wheat Pool members should appreciate what it means to the Central Selling Agency to have Pool wheat in "a selling position."

To make the best sales Pool wheat should be in a position where it is instantly available, and where long and troublesome delays are not incurred.

When Pool wheat is in Pool elevators the Selling Agency can depend upon it being directed wherever it is wanted. For that reason, if for no other, Pool wheat should be delivered to Pool elevators.

Besides this, Pool elevators give Pool members an assurance of fair treatment to an extent never known in the days when there was no Wheat Pool.

You can best aid your Selling Agency and your own elevator system by delivering your wheat to Pool elevators.

That Good
Old-fashioned Flavor

NO doubt about it—old-time cooking was delicious. But it may have been our youthful appetites, rather than the quality of the food itself, that gave it that super-flavor we all remember. The good cooks of those days never had a chance to buy such groceries as modern housewives use.

The coffee on your breakfast-table—one of the half-dozen best-known brands advertised today—has a flavor that you could find only at a few famous restaurants, forty years ago. The cakes that mother used to make would have been even lighter, fluffier, if she had had modern flour and shortening to work with.

Every day the advertising columns tell you where to buy and how to use cooking materials that are better-tasting, purer, more conveniently put up than ever before in history.

All through your housekeeping the same rule holds good. There are better things nowadays to eat, to wear, to use. Read the advertisements and know what they are. Then ask for them by name.

Make it a habit; reading the advertisements pays YOU.

MOVING AGAINST OWNERS OF
WEEDY FARM LAND

J. M. Murray, weed inspector for the unorganized districts west of Macleod, is a busy man these days, rounding up the laggard farmers who are not cutting their weeds. Unfortunately, from his accounts there seems to be too many of that class all over the district, but he has started to prosecute, and is determined to clean up the district as far as possible. His first case was Henry Sharples, west of Claresholm, who appeared before Claude Amundsen, police magistrate, on two charges of having failed to carry out the instructions of the weed inspector. The charges were found proven and he was fined $5 and costs on both charges. Several will also be appearing in the Macleod court in a day or two.

Mr. Murray states that in many cases he has gone to the farmers two or three times, and pleaded with them to clean up, but his efforts to give the farmer every chance seem of no avail. The situation is serious, and it is too bad the farmers will not co-operate, not only for their own benefit but also for the damage they are doing to their neighbors.

Maybe juries don't convict because nobody feels qualified to throw the first stone.

HAGUE PARLEY STILL HOPE-
FUL OF SETTLEMENT — RE-
FUSE TO BREAK UP REPARA-TIONS CONFERENCE WITH-OUT FINDING SOLUTION

The Hague, Aug. 23.—New hope that an agreement may be eventually be found at the reparations conference was seen today with the announcement that tomorrow's full session of the conference which had been expected to be the last, had been postponed.

New Offer

The Hague, Aug. 23.—(C. P.)—A new offer of increased share in reparations was formulated last night and confided to Henri Jaspar, of Belgium, to communicate to Right Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

After a day of struggle to keep alive the tottering conference for putting into effect the Young plan, or something to replace the Dawes plan for Germany payments, the representatives of France, Belgium, Italy and Japan finally reached an agreement for an offer which they said represented 75 per cent. of the British demands.

The Hague, Aug. 22.—France, Belgium, Italy and Japan, the four creditor powers that accept the Young plan integrally, began conversations at 3 p. m. today, in a stubborn effort to reach some agreement on division of reparations with Great Britain before the end of the third week of the Hague conference.

Germany joined in the conversations at 4 p. m.

The purpose of these progressively expanding private discussions is to arrive at an understanding between all the powers that are willing to adopt the Young plan and then to hold another meeting with the British delegates.

Try to Avert Break-up

The Hague, Aug. 22.—The delegates to the reparations conference, still stubbornly trying to reach some sort of agreement, today turned to private conversations after deciding that there was no longer any use trying to settle their differences in committee or in groups.

Premier Jasper, of Belgium, proposed that the delegates adjourn for the present, leaving the rest of the work of the conference to be done in private conversations. This was readily agreed to.

These conferences will have three principal objects:

1. Agreement of the other creditors with the British as to the distribution of annuities.
2. Agreement between the French, Belgians and Germans as to the date for final liberation of the Rhineland.
3. In case the two others fail, how to break off the conference so that it can be resumed under conditions permitting hope of success.

During today's meeting, Premier Briand of France, showed some optimism saying:

Conference Not Dead

"This conference is not dead. We must do all we can to save it."

The premier was replying to a suggestion by Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany that, if no agreement were reached here, a sort of partial moratorium might be accorded Germany which would permit her to pay under the Young plan instead of the Dawes plan after September 1.

The fact that all the old allies are lined up against Dr. Stresemann on the question of reparations payment under the Young plan after September 1, gave rise to reports that the British and French had come together. Right Hon. Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, denied these reports saying that the fact that the allies were against abrogation of the Dawes plan was simply incidental, and that there was no grouping of powers against Germany at all.

Dr. Stresemann himself declared that he was pleased with the attitude of Chancellor Snowden in the matter since it was a natural one as one of the reparations creditors. The German foreign minister was still pleading for some sort of arrangement that would enable the German delegation to go home without facing a crisis.

Says Snowden Peremptory
London, Aug. 22.—(C. P.)—Right Hon. Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, is following at the Hague the policy insisted upon from the first by the former Conservative government. Lord Cushead, chief of the British delegation to the reparations conference at Geneva in the fall of 1928, said in an interview here.

Mr. Snowden was merely confirming conditions which he (Cushead) postulated at the conference in Geneva, when he laid down an essential preliminary to the establishment of a committee of financial experts on the question of reparations, that it must be understood the British government based its policy on the Balfour note and on the Spa percentages and that there could be no departure, Lord Cushead said.

"We, of course, would have maintained the same position had we remained in power," he continued, but I think we should have succeeded in doing so without putting up the backs of our allies as Snowden has by his peremptory language. He made the profound mistake of conducting international negotiations with an eye to party politics at home."

CLOTHES MOTHS

Clothes moths cause much damage to materials of animal origin, such as woollens, furs, hair, feathers, etc., and their ravages etc., are familiar to most housewives. Damage by clothes moths is caused by the feeding activities of the caterpillars of this insect, which are the young of the small winged moth that may be seen at times flying about the house. In a treatise on "Household Insects and Their Control" by the Dominion Entomologist and a member of his staff, it is stated that there are two species of the clothes moth known as the webbing clothes moth and the case making variety. The adults of both species are small, having a wing spread of one-half inch or less. They are similar in general appearance and habits but differ slightly in colour, the webbing species being entirely pale buff, and the case making species grayish-brown.

It is recommended for preventing damage to clothing to avoid leaving such articles as are likely to be attacked undisturbed for long periods, particularly during the summer months in such places as cupboards, trunks, attics, etc. Such articles, after being thoroughly brushed and beaten, preferably in strong sunlight, should be placed in well-made trunks or chests with tightly fitting lids, or enclosed in cotton or paper bags or in cardboard boxes sealed with paper strips. Wrapping clothing in two thicknesses of strong paper, taking care to see that the edges are turned so that no moths may gain entrance, is also recommended by the authors of this bulletin as an alternative measure. A good repellent of the clothes moth is fresh naphthalene flakes scattered among the garments when they are put away. Clear instructions are also given in the bulletin for protecting piano felting, upholstered furniture and other goods liable to be damaged.

FOREST FIRE SITUATION SERI-OUS — GLACIER PARK FIRE MAY JUMP BORDER TO SOUTHEAST B. C.

Lethbridge, Aug. 24.—Fire fronts in various sectors are being strengthened as the situation shows little evidence of improvement. Information assembled by the Herald Saturday morning disclosed that the West Glacier Park fire, between Columbia Falls and Belton, Mont., has burned over 75,000 acres of heavily timbered country, destroyed the homes and property of probably 30 families, and is sweeping along the north fork of the Flathead river toward the Canadian border.

It is feared that the fire will cross the border today, entering the Flathead Valley just west of the international divide. Waterton National Park and the east side of Glacier National Park are not menaced, the fire being confined to the west side of Glacier Park.

In East Kootenay there are about 20 fires burning. The fires go down at night but flare up in the afternoons, caused by the recurring winds.

In Turner Valley
The fire situation west of Turner Valley was reported worse on Friday evening and fire fighters were rushed to pivotal points to stem the progress of the blaze threatening the oil fields.

Foremost Fire Out

From the foremost came reassuring news Saturday morning regarding the prairie fire that raged for several hours between Legend and Foremost. More than a hundred men were mustered out to fight the fire and by persistent efforts it was confined to a strip of pasture land.

Two fields of stock wheat were in danger but not more than 20 stooks were destroyed. Aside from the burned over pasture land the fire was checked before any damage was done, the Herald's Foremost correspondent reported Saturday morning. He was on the scene of the fire shortly after it was reported, for it was feared for a time that the town of Foremost might fall in the path of the flames.

Thick smoke obscures the sky and at Cardston Friday night, the smoke was sufficing as it rolled up in dense clouds from the Glacier country. Tourists are making speedy exits from the affected regions. Rain is believed the only thing that will permanently subdue the fires in the mountain areas and there is little prospect of an early downpour.

West Glacier Outlook Bad
Kalispell, Mont., Aug. 24.—The forest fire situation between Columbia Falls and Belton is showing no evidence of improvement as the week closes without rain, the one agency that could effectively cope with the fires raging in many quarters.

The mayor of this city has issued a proclamation calling out every available man to augment the army of firefighters struggling heroically to stem the progress of the flames. Thursday night the town of Belton, west entrance to Glacier National Park, was circled by fire on three sides. The flames creeping up to within 100 yards of the Great Northern railway station. Park administrative buildings also seemed doomed but the work of a thousand men using equipment rushed to the scene succeeded in checking the fire.

Yesterday the fire turned north and is burning now in the vicinity of the Lewis hotel at the head of Lake McDonald.

The fire has already burned over 75,000 acres of heavily timbered area and between 25 and 30 families have been burned out. Thus far no loss of life is reported. The timber lands laid waste belonged to the Stolpa Lumber company, Minneapolis; Julius Neils company, Libby, Mont.; National Pole company, Spokane; McFarland Lumber company, Sandpoint, Idaho.

It is thought unlikely that the fire will cross the continental divide as the summit is rocky and high. The flames have been confined wholly to the west end of Glacier Park.

SERVICES GIVEN BY A. M. A. TO MOTORISTS ARE SPEEDING UP GENERAL MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Good work being done by branches of the Alberta Motor Association is having its effect on car owners in this province, causing them to rally in growing numbers to the membership strength of the organization. There is no doubt that a decided gain in membership over 1928 is assured, and this will set a high mark for the 1929 branches to eclipse.

From Calgary, where Fred R. Brason is president, comes the report that 385 new members have been enrolled, while no less than 80 were signed up in one week recently. This branch had a membership of 1,800 last year, but now it is sailing towards the 3,000 mark.

Edmonton has also been active, and there is every indication that the division with headquarters at the capital will turn in a record membership for the current year. This branch has a worthy program for this year, fully meriting a generous response on the part of car owners living in that section of the province.

Drives for new members are also under way in other parts of the province, while those working in the interests of the A. M. A. found that a fresh conception of the value of services given to motorists and all others who use the highways is being held. When it is realized what the Association is doing for the motorists and highways of this province, there is a gratifying desire to accord support so fully warranted.

On all sides there are instances of special attention being given to the needs of motorists by representatives of the A. M. A.

One case that came to notice was that of a town which was preparing to prosecute speeders under a newly framed by-law of its own. C. H. Grant, K. C., who is a counsel for the A. M. A., went to this town and when the case in which he was also defending counsel was called, he showed that the by-law would not stand. As a result the charges of speeding against his client, who was an Edmonton man, was withdrawn.

Offices of the A. M. A. in Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and other places are giving valuable information and assistance to motorists who are planning trips, and others who wish to be advised of return routes to Alberta. Many of these visitors can be seen at one time in some of these offices, taking full advantage of facilities afforded by the A. M. A.

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CAN-ADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIA-TION—DANGER SIGNALS

We have, from time to time, drawn the attention of our readers to danger signals. There are certain conditions which, when they occur, should be taken as definite warnings and should send the person concerned to his doctor without delay. There is a very definite limit to the extent we may go in pointing out such danger signals, because there is a limit to what the lay person is able to see.

The trained engineer can learn from the action and the sound of his machinery whether or not it is running as it should. He will detect the slight changes which are the beginning of trouble and which the untrained person would neither see nor hear. The sailor foretells the weather, not by guess-work but by means of the knowledge acquired during years of observation. The physician prepares himself by a lengthy period of training in order that he may, first of all, acquire knowledge and secondly, the skill to put this knowledge into practice.

Most of the diseases from which mankind suffers are not of the sudden, acute type; the majority of them are gradually developed over a considerable period of time. In most cases, their presence is not suspected until there is some symptom which sends the sufferer to his doctor for examination. That symptom was a danger signal which the patient recognized. There were, however, before that, danger signals which the physician, had he been given the opportunity of examining the patient, would have recognized by reason of his special training and skill.

The Periodic Health Examination, which means that regularly, once a year, the individual goes to his doctor for a complete examination, provides the most practical means of which we know to detect these early danger signals. Periodic Health Examination brings medical skill to act when it has the most to offer. Early treatment is the greatest advantage that curative medicine has to offer, because early treatment will mean, in most cases, cure, or at least no further damage. If one relies on his own skill to decide as to the need for medical care, this may mean, in many cases, advanced disease with practically no hope of cure, and a life-long disability.

The periodic health examination should be made by the family physician. Questions, concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by correspondence.

LIFE'S TOOLS

build a house, he first examines his tools to see that they are in perfect condition. A good workman will not work with damaged tools, nor with an essential tool missing. The finished result would be imperfect. He would not have his name associated with such.

Are parents as careful as the good workman? So many small children are to begin next month to build the foundation for the future structure of their lives. Are their tools in perfect working order? Eyes and ears, heart and lungs—in fact, the whole structure that makes up the little body. Unless they are in perfect working condition, the child starts with a handicap that nothing in later life can overcome. The structure that he builds will be imperfect, and he is not responsible. HIS PARENTS ARE!

No child should start school without a complete physical examination, without having defects, if any, remedied, without being in perfect working condition. That is his birthright.

Literature on the care of children can be had from the Canadian Red Cross Society, 407 Clive Block, Edmonton, Alberta.

"AUTOGIRO" LETS PLANE
DOWN EASY

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—Dropping from the skies in an almost vertical position and landing as gently as a feather floating to earth, the new autogiro (safety plane) of the Spanish inventor, Juan De La Cierua, was put through a series of successful test flights here yesterday.

The pilot made a half dozen trips and each time came down almost vertically within a few feet of the point from which he started, thus demonstrating, he said, the ability of the plane to land safely, if the motor should suddenly "go dead," while the plane was in flight.

SEPTEMBER ROD AND GUN

With the approach of fall, the thoughts of sportsmen are turning towards hunting both deer and feathered game. The September number of Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News, just issued, contains an exceptionally fine article on deer hunting by C. N. A. Ireson, which will prove of great interest to devotees of that sport.

However, this is only one of a collection of equally good articles and features which deal authoritatively with other departments and adventures in outdoor life and which provide thoroughly good reading for all interested in outdoor life. Open seasons for game throughout Canada and a full report of the annual meeting of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association are included in this issue.

FEMININE ARCHITECTURE CHANGES

Corset manufacturers and the makers of the various ornaments designed to adorn the hair are said to be waging a strenuous—and costly—campaign to repopularize the ample feminine architecture and long locks that characterized the beauties of Victoria's day.

They have every chance in the world to accomplish their purpose—for feminine form is the most fluid and changeable quantity in the whole world of beauty.

The standards of the female form divine have changed more often and more radically than any other criterion of loveliness.

It was once fashionable to be stout. The overflowing ladies of Rubens and the buxom lassies of Rembrandt illustrate the tendencies of those periods. Even Raphael's most tender Madonnas are physically prosperous.

But the belles of Reynolds, Gainsborough and Romney are more modestly designed; and the women of Whistler are slender and cushion-less.

Within the lifetime of this generation, feminine architecture has changed from a Doric rotundity to a Corinthian delicacy. And fashions in bodies take on some of the variability and invariability of fashions in dress.

What is feminine beauty, anyway? The African swain chooses his bride and is proportionately proud of her, according to a protuberance that is not mentioned in more polite civilization.

Polynesian peoples measure facial beauty according to the flatness of the nose. Other Negroid tribes distort the lips of their women into the likeness of dinner plates.

The chameleon qualities of feminine architecture may be bewildering to the male. But their variability is accompanied by a sort of poetic justice that gives every girl her chance.

The fat girl may be a drag on the market today. But in the whirligig of fashion, tomorrow we may be watching her smoke.

ward communism, and his reiterated radicalism has made him an object of widespread distrust and suspicion.

But Cook is not the man he was two years ago, and he has the moral courage to admit it; increased knowledge and experience, honestly analysed and applied, have altered his mental attitude, and modified his theories for the reform of social and economic evils.

Speaking at Durham a few weeks ago, Cook noted with pleasure that the miners of that district were drinking less, and thinking more; the problems confronting the mining industry required brains for their solution, and not beer. Cook deplored the misunderstanding and ignorance that prevailed regarding economic conditions which pre-determine the course of reorganization and the hoped-for amelioration. The labor leaders have no intention of attempting to coerce the Government, but will collaborate with it in its efforts to relieve distress by constitutional means.

British Labor is unequivocally opposed to Communism, which has failed utterly to betray the reason and intelligence of the workers, and extreme adversity has served only to stimulate the application of common sense in a national crisis that demands national co-operation. If industry is to escape confusion worse confounded.

Mr. Cook has abandoned his uncompromising attitude towards capital, and has come to realize that Labor and Capital are equally responsible for the maintenance of property, the primary essential of which is peace in industry. Legislation would be of little benefit without intelligent co-operation, and this idea seems to be gaining ground with workers and employers alike.

The trend of social evolution in Great Britain is very apparent, and it is equally apparent that reason and sanity are the controlling factors in the moving events upon which the welfare of the nation depends.

WAGES FOR CHILDREN

It's a good plan, says an English writer to substitute a regular "wage" for those pennies and nickels you give the children.

Many parents bemoan the fact that their children don't realize the value of money. How can they, when they can get it for the asking? They never have the chance to learn.

Instead of making mere gifts of money to your child, suppose you try putting him—or her—on a regular weekly "wage" in return for little tasks performed around the house. Pennies or nickels paid for these little trifles, instead of being handed out indiscriminately, will instill the spirit of industry and thrift at the formative age.

When your boy grows up and faces the world, he will have an appreciation of the value of money. And when your daughter grows up and starts housekeeping she will have an infinitely better idea of how

ORTON TO HAVE ACCOMMODATION FOR GRADES IX AND X IN NEW CHURCH BUILDING

The population of the Orton district is evidently on the increase, as is shown by the necessity of providing increased school accommodation for the rising generation. The one-room school has been overcrowded for years with the grades from I. to VIII, with no possibility of teaching the higher grades. The Mormon people of the district are erecting a fine new church, and it occurred to some of the people that the basement of the church might be used temporarily for a senior school room for the higher grades. When it was found that all the seven grade pupils had passed the recent examinations and wanted to continue into grade IX, and also a number who had passed grade VIII in previous years, and several who had taken grade IX elsewhere, were all anxious to take these grades, but whose parents could not afford to send them to Macleod or Lethbridge, steps were taken to establish a senior room. The sanction of President Palmer of the Lethbridge Stake was most heartily given to use the basement of the church for school purposes. The sanction of the Department of Education was also given through Mr. Bremner, the school inspector, who inspected the building and passed it as most suitable for the purpose.

The Board of Trustees set to work to make arrangements for opening the senior room, and have appointed Horace Allen of Wayne to take charge of that room. Grades VII, and VIII, will be transferred to the senior room, along with grades IX, and X, making about 25 pupils for these four grades.

Mrs. Cassie McMurray has been re-engaged for the junior room, where she will have about 35 pupils in grades I. to VI. Mrs. McMurray has been one of the most successful teachers that the Orton District has ever had; she has stepped in at different times when the trustees were up against it for a teacher and last Easter she took hold of the school when the teacher left, and with only three months of the term to go, she was successful in passing all her seven grade pupils. Needless to say that the parents and all the higher grade pupils are delighted at the prospect of opening the senior room.

RECENT BRIDES AT MACLEOD HONORED

A pleasant social evening was spent at the home of Mrs. W. J. Ryan, 26th Street on Wednesday of last week, the occasion being in honor of three recent young brides in Macleod, Mrs. C. S. Reach, Mrs. J. Dillingham and Mrs. R. Townsend.

The home was lavishly decorated with lovely flowers and the evening was spent in bridge. The lucky winner of the first prize was Miss Olive Young, and the consolation was handed to Miss Mabel McCrea. The guests included Mrs. C. S. Reach, Mrs. J. Dillingham, Mrs. R. Townsend, the Misses Edna Johnson (Calgary guest of Mrs. Reach), Olive Young, Winnie Reach, Mabel McCrea, Lilian Andrews, May Fawcett, Marjory Greenwood, Josie De Mann and M. McDougall. Refreshments were served by the hostess in a most delightful and unique style.

The balance of the evening was spent in a social manner, of which a notable feature, was a personal character sketch, by one of the young ladies, first describing the difference between a rumble seat car ride and a ride in a carry-all. Needless to say the sketch was much enjoyed and received with great applause.

BAD TO WORSE

Raymond was the proud owner of a black and white mongrel, which was a nuisance to the rest of the household. But Raymond could not be persuaded to part with it.

At last the boy's father made him an offer.

"My boy," he said, "I'll give you 10 shillings if you'll get rid of that dog."

The following morning Raymond claimed the half sovereign.

"That's excellent," said his father. "Here you are. How did you get rid of him?"

Raymond smiled as he pocketed the money.

"I swapped him with Bobbie Brown for two black pups,"—Pearson's Weekly.

SPECIAL MEETING MACLEOD BOARD OF TRADE RE HYDRO-ELECTRIC

A special meeting of the executive of the Board of Trade was held on Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing the proposal of the Town Council to link up with the Hydro-electric power, and after considerable weighing of the "pros" and "cons" a resolution was unanimously adopted as follows:

"RESOLVED, that the Executive of the Macleod and District Board of Trade heartily endorse the proposed scheme of linking up with the Hydro-electric power line to supply local requirements and to provide new industries which may locate here, with power, it being in our opinion in the best interests of the Town of Macleod to do so. We appeal to the voters of the town to turn out 100 per cent and cast their ballots whether for or against as this is a matter of great importance to the future of our town."

J. W. Moreash, Vice-President.

N. S. Kirk, Secretary.

JUST HIS UNCLE

Lord Macduff, the young son of Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught, had just learned the words of the national anthem, and he told his nurse that he wanted to see "Our Noble King."

One day, when the King was walking in the grounds at Bagshot with the Duke of Connaught, Lord Macduff was told by his nurse, "Look, there is the King, with Grandfather."

"Oh, no," said little Lord Macduff, "that is not the King. That is my Uncle George."—Pearson's.

No. 1 GRADE ON MACLEOD WHEAT

The first load of spring wheat brought into Macleod was delivered on Wednesday afternoon last week at the pool elevator from the farm of M. E. Weir, Hazelton, and graded No. 1 Northern. It weighed 62 pounds to the bushel. Mr. Weir has a big acreage of this wheat.

NOT AMONG THEM

In an effort to encourage the reading of good literature by young members of the Victorian police force, the chief commissioner, General Blumey, has established a well-stocked library at their barracks.

Recently a new librarian, in the person of a stockily built youth from the country, who had just joined up, was approached by an enthusiastic reader. "Have you got 'The Pickwick Papers'?" he was asked.

"No, sir," he replied. "We only get the three morning papers."

IMAGINATION

Little June was running across the floor that a neighbor was washing. The neighbor placed her in a chair and told her to make believe that she was in a boat and would get wet if she got out of the chair. June sat quietly for a while, then began to run back and forth across the floor.

"Oh, uncle," said the neighbor, "you will get wet."

June, using more imagination, replied, "Oh, no, I have on my bathing suit."

EXCITING HORSE RACE IN "SILKS AND SADDLES"—STIRRING PICTURE COMING TO THE EMPRESS—MARIAN NIXON ON THE LEAD

One of the greatest horse racing pictures ever produced, "Silks and Saddles" starring Marian Nixon, pretty heroine of Universal pictures, will be shown at the Empress Theatre Friday and Saturday, it is announced.

"Silks and Saddles," made under the direction of Robert F. Hill, has brought to the screen the most thrilling scenes of the dirt track ever made into a motion picture. It was started with the avowed intention of the director to give picturegoers a perfect reproduction of an exciting horse race on one of the big tracks.

UNUSUAL PICTURE COMING TO EMPRESS—WEIRD MYSTICISM

An unusual and entertaining picture of society seances and the craze for mysticism is promised for the screen of the Empress Theatre Friday and Saturday when the management of that play-house will present "The Charlatan," a Universal production based on the famous Broadway stage success of that name.

Holmes Herbert, Rockliffe Fellowes, Margaret Livingston and Fred Mackaye are seen in the principal roles. George Melford directed the picture under the supervision of Carl Laemmle, Jr.

The story concerns the weird events following the staging of a fortune telling party at the home of one of the society leaders of a certain American city. The Hindu mystic, played by Holmes Herbert, becomes tragically involved in the tangled heart affairs of the several couples attending the seance. The startling results make gripping drama.

SIXTH JANNINGS NEW MASTER-PIECE—TWO BRILLIANT FEATURED PLAYERS SUPPORT GREAT DRAMATIC STAR IN POWERFUL STORY

Emil Jannings, supported by two of Hollywood's most popular featured players, Esther Ralston and Gary Cooper, has produced the sixth of his grippingly powerful human dramas for Paramount. The picture is "Betrayal," which will be the attraction at the Empress theatre, starting Monday for two days. A splendid synchronization of sound and effects enhances the beauty of characterization, setting and story.

Jannings' characters have always been taken directly from life and, in this story of the Swiss Alps, he has a role which does justice to his wonderful talent for interpretation. As the self-satisfied, self-centered good-natured Swiss burgher, Jannings gives a performance unsurpassed on the American screen, one worthy of comparison with his immortal picturization of the mad Czar in "The Patriot."

OBITUARY

DEATH OF JAMES WOOD

James Wood, a farmer resident of the Macleod district for the past 22 years, passed away in the early hours of Friday morning, at the Macleod general hospital.

Mr. Wood underwent an operation for appendicitis about 10 days ago, and his condition has been serious for over a week. He did not seem to have the strength to overcome the effects of the operation. He has not been in very good health for some time, which culminated in this fatal attack.

Mr. Wood was born at Ovid, Idaho, and was 54 years of age. He married Miss Sillito at Logan, Utah, 27 years ago, and there are four children of the marriage, two sons and two daughters. The sons are, Leonard of Glenwoodville and Stanley of Orton. The daughters are Mildred, who is teaching and May (Mrs. Webster) Glenwoodville. He is also survived by one brother Fred, who is living in Idaho. Mr. Wood has been farming recently in the Rathwell district, south of Macleod, but for many years after coming to Macleod he farmed in the Orton district.

He was a man of a quiet and unassuming disposition and was very highly respected in the community. Much sympathy is being expressed for the widow and bereaved family.

WELL?

There is a story of a visit John Barrymore paid to a haberdasher in Hollywood. After ordering this and that, he turned to leave.

"And your name?" the clerk asked innocently.

"Barrymore," was the chill reply.

"Which Barrymore, please?" John surveyed him coldly. "Ethel."

"The McCormick-Deering Windrow Harvester is the most progressive step in harvesting methods since the building of the first reaper." That's what M. R. Weir says.

Opie Reid was visiting the Death Valley in California one time and he seemed very much impressed to know that he was actually below sea-level. Approaching a native, he asked: "Say, stranger, what altitude is this?"
"Altitude—? Here—? Hell man, we ain't got none!"

"When I think of the years I slaved over a hot stove at harvest time, I am inclined to regard the McCormick-Deering Combine method of harvesting as the modern miracle." These are the words of one of the ladies whose husband bought a McCormick-Deering Combine last season.

There is sufficient faith in the world to move mountains, but there are always doubters on hand to think dynamite the more effective force.

Our McCormick-Deering Potato Diggers can be equipped with a vine turner and rolling coulters for doing good work in heavy vines. The coulters cut the vines and prevent tangling. The vine turners throw the trash to one side, leaving the potatoes all uncovered in a neat, easily gathered row. We'd like to show you how these attachments work.

Ordinary mason jars, arranged on a shelf on the barn or tool house make splendid containers for small parts, rivets, nails, bolts, nuts, screws, staples, etc.

All-steel construction, mounted on a durable steel frame, is fireproof and not subject to damage from vibration. If you need a new threshing rig this fall, don't fail to see the McCormick-Deering.

Miss Mabel Brewster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brewster, Macleod, has been successful in winning special high honors in theory in a recent examination by the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brewster of Macleod entertained Mr. and Mrs. Robert James of New York City last week. Mrs. James, who before her marriage last July, was Evelyn Fin of East Orange, New Jersey, is a niece of Mrs. Brewster. The Jameses are making a 9000 mile tour of the United States and Canada. Mr. James is a member of the technical staff of the Bell Telephone Laboratories of New York City.

The Rev. J. F. Knight of the United Church, Macleod, is at present in Edmonton attending the School of Religion which is being held at St. Stephen College. Mr. Knight writes that there are about 100 adult students and 59 juveniles registered. The adults are mostly ministers. Most interesting lectures are being delivered by noted educationalists of Alberta, Toronto and Montreal.

Miss Edna Wood, Miss Irene Tweed and Miss Jenny Barr were joint hostesses at the home of the former on Seventeenth Street, for a jolly surprise party in honor of Miss Doris Watson, who is shortly leaving for the Normal School at Calgary. There were over twenty young ladies and young gentlemen present. The evening was spent in a social manner, the young folks entered with zest into a number of amusing games, intermixed with delightful dances. The young hostesses during the evening served dainty refreshments, everyone declaring at the close, that they had had a most enjoyable evening.

Cutting has been general during the week, several farmers are finished the spring wheat. One or two threshing machines have started. A very fine sample of spring wheat from a thresher is coming in from the farm of Rod Hilliard on the Stand Off trail, which is grading No. 1 and weighs 64 lbs. to the bushel. Returns from two cars of fall wheat already shipped gives both cars No. 2 grade. The high winds several days during the week did some damage in the district by shelling, no other damage reported. The grain ripened quickly, and the weather the best for cutting, the harvest will soon be cleaned up including the threshing if the weather holds good.

"I'm on my way to cover the latest mystery."
"Oh, you're a reporter, or, perhaps, a detective!"
"Neither—I'm a bookbinder."—Christian Science Monitor.

Patriotism is the quality that makes a town worker with eight mouths to feed resent the importation of cheap foreign wheat.

Correct this sentence: "I believe in freedom," said the man, "and that means I grant others the same freedom I demand for myself."

True, beach pyjamas are more modest than bathing suits. And the old-fashioned night shirt would be more modest still.

Birth control may be all right; but if people old enough to vote can't pick the best ones, how can you expect a stoik to do it?

"See America first" is a good slogan. It's the only country where the scenery is composed of Camels, Quaker oil, U. S. tires, etc.

Using a dam to develop power saves coal. In other cases it saves the trouble of acquiring an expressive vocabulary.

You can estimate the size of his ego if you observe the flourish or lack of it when he manipulates a cigarette lighter.

Another advantage of the five-day week is that one full day could be devoted to squaring things with collectors.
